

A wooden sign with a weathered, aged appearance is suspended in the center of the frame by two thick, light-brown ropes. The ropes are knotted at the top and bottom. The sign itself is rectangular with irregular, torn edges and a light tan color with some darker staining. It features the text "Acts 11:19-21" in a large, bold, black serif font. The text is underlined with a thin black line. The background is a vast, blue sky filled with soft, white clouds. In the lower foreground, the dark, jagged, and layered edges of rocky cliffs are visible on both the left and right sides, framing the central sign.

every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.
